

Nigel Gatherer's Scottish Collection

Hoch Hey Johnnie Lad (traditional)

slow reel

Musical notation for Hoch Hey Johnnie Lad, including treble clef, key signature (one sharp), and ukulele tablature (TAB) with fret numbers.

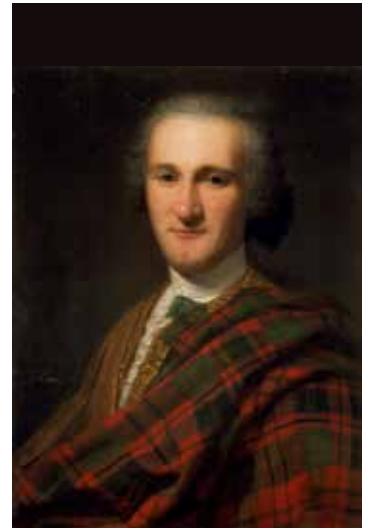

Chords: G, D, G, D, G, D, G, C, G, D, G

Lord Drummond (traditional)

slow reel

Musical notation for Lord Drummond, including treble clef, key signature (two sharps), and ukulele tablature (TAB) with fret numbers.

Chords: D, Em, F#m, G, D, Bm, A, D, D, D, G, A, D, Bm, A, A7

Hoch Hey Johnnie Lad

Hoch Hey Johnnie Lad has also been published as The Lassies of the Ferry; The Lads of Saltcoats and Jerry O'Sullivan's, the last having been recorded by that name by the Irish group Lunasa.

Lord Drummond was published in Kerr's

Merry Melodies (c1870s). My setting comes from the group The Tannahill Weavers. There have been numerous Lord Drummonds in Scottish history, so it's impossible to say which one the tune is named for.